DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Applicant is advised that should claims 2 - 11 be found allowable, claims 14 - 23 and 6 - 35 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1 - 36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent No. 6,500,200 to Kushnir in view of US Patent No. 5,733,319 to Neilson et al.

In regards to claims 1 - 36, Kushnir discloses a closed loop heating system including a plurality of inflatable bladders (Figure 1) in a series flow path; a reservoir (90); and a fluid flow path comprising an inflow line (60) and an outflow line (62) for placing the bladders in fluid communication with the reservoir. Kushnir discloses at least 6 inflatable bladders (Figure 1) and a mechanical link (Col. 4, lines 30 - 33) between the bladders. The Examiner considers the bladders generally pear-shaped in that each comprise a wide portion and a thinner portion. A heat exchange fluid is contained within the closed loop (Col. 5, line 58). Kushnir discloses each bladder having a width of no more than about 2 inches, a length of no more than about 3 inches, and a thickness of no more than about 1 inch (Col. 2, lines 37 – 44). Kushnir fails to disclose the reservoir being a compressible container and the closed loop system being free of a pump, wherein the closed loop system can be operated and removed without exposing a fluid within the closed loop system to the outside of the closed loop system. However, Neilson et al. discloses a closed loop system including a compressible reservoir (110; Col. 8, line 40) and being free of a pump, wherein the closed loop system can be operated and removed without exposing a fluid within the closed loop system to the outside of the closed loop system (Col. 6, lines 15 – 20). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the reservoir and closed loop system as disclosed by Kushnir to include a compressible container and to be free of a pump, wherein the closed loop system can be operated and removed without exposing a fluid within the closed loop system to the outside of the closed loop system as taught by Neilson et al. in order to allow the closed loop system to be disposable to thereby eliminate otherwise necessary cleaning and sterilization of non-disposable, fixed heat transfer units (Col. 6, lines 15 – 20).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 11/16/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant asserts that the lobes disclosed by Kushnir in view Neilson et al. are not generally pear-shaped. However, the term generally leads to a broad interpretation of pear-shaped. As such, the Examiner considers the lobes disclosed by Kushnir in view Neilson et al. to be generally pear-shaped in that each lobe comprise a wide portion and a thinner portion. It is noted that a recitation with respect to the manner in which an apparatus is intended to be employed does not impose any structural limitation upon the claimed apparatus that differentiates it from a prior art reference disclosing the structural limitations of the claim. In re Pearson, 494 F.2d 1399, 181 USPQ 641 (CCPA 1947); In re Yanush, 477 F.2d 958, 177 USPQ705 (CCPA 1973); In re Finsterwalder, 436

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
